ALL SORTS.

—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.
—Reno is now clamoring for a tannery.
—Friend predicts warm weather.

—Only seven patients left at the Poor Farm.

—John Cunha is renovating his barber shop.

—A non-partizan Anti-Chinese crusade has started in Meadocino.

—Henry Cobb, Grand Chancellor of the K. of P. was in the city yesterday.

—Candelaria ships her bullion past the Mint to San Francisco. The same old racket.

—Quite a crowd will leave today for the session of the Grand Lodge of the K. of P. of Reno.

—The testimony in the Asylum case will be published in full. It will make 250 printed pages.

—The hearing of the injunction suit of Davis vs. Shultz has been postponed three weeks.

—The rodent John Kelly is gnawing away at the timbers that hold up the stock market.

—FOR SALE.—A large roomy residence in the Western part of the city. Fine location. Apply at this office.

—The other night a man rooming at Jennie Forrest's stole $40 and skipped out without paying his room rent.

—A Grass Valley man has died from drinking too much water. No such accident has ever happened in Nevada.

—The two Roselles of Los Angeles have been bound over in the sum of $2,000 for throwing vitriol. The husband is charged with being accessory.

—Leslie Bell proposes to introduce the Santa Cruz credit coupon system in his store. It has always worked well where it has been used.

—Superintendent Dovey has departed for Berkeley, Cal., to study the methods of conducting the dumb and blind asylum there.

—Hon. W. J. Hanks will examine Shaw's Hot Springs with a view of ascertaining whether or not they can be developed and recovered.

—Tonight the Episcopalians will give a strawberry festival at Armory Hall. There will be music and dancing as an incidental, and all the pretty girls will be there.

—Jack Kilrain has finally won the diamond championship belt of America, Sullivan giving it up without a struggle, and lots of pugilists are kicking themselves that they didn't make the same bluff that Kilrain indulged in.

—Mrs. Bowers, the Washoe seeress is now in Virginia City. The day she struck the town there was a big earthquake shock.

It is said that the big ore discoveries she predicted in the West side of Mt. Davidson are now being made by the diving rod.

—Secretary of State Dornier and Superintendent of Public Instruction Dovey expect to spend Wednesday in Reno, looking into University matters, arriving tomorrow evening. Governor Stevenson will be there to inspect the repairs made by Architect M. J. Curtis.

—The final report of the Asylum Commissioners has been made. It is quite a voluminous document, and exonerates Dr. Bishop from every charge made, and then ascribes the whole trouble to "the contemptible malice and hatred of Dr. Dawson." The Board also says that it will consider no more charges against Dr. Bishop.

—Another Smelter for Nevada.

A San Francisco company with a capital stock of $500,000 has been organized to construct and operate a smelter at Golconda in this State. Three hundred thousand dollars has already been paid in and the work of laying the foundation will be commenced next week. It is said that there are millions of tons of base ores in Humboldt county that should pay a profit on mining and reducing.

—Auction.

There was a perfect jam at Olcoyich's auction sale yesterday afternoon. About all the ladies in town were there, and some immense bargains were secured. Everything sold is first-class, and no old shelf-worn goods are offered. It will continue until further notice.

Disadvantage of Barbed Wire.

A reaction has set in against the barbed wire fence, the manufacture of which, has grown to be one of the greatest industries of the country. The waterworks for the sale of the different patented varieties of the article form one of the most important sections of the hardware district near Felton ferry. The reason of the reaction is the discovery by the farmers that in substantiating the wire for the old fashioned fences and hedges they have driven away the myriads of little birds that used to eat up the worms and similar pests so destructive to the farmer's crops. These birds need the shelter and cover of the hedges which formerly separated the tilled fields. Even if the fence were of wood a thick growth of sedge or long grass grew at its base which made a retreat for the birds. But with the clean mathematical division made by the barbed wire the fields become as smooth as a tennis lawn and the unsheltered birds are forced to migrate. In their absence the worms thrive and become legion.

The barbed wire fence became popular with many farmers because it allowed them to sow and reap larger crops, the entire surface of the land becoming accessible, whereas with wooden fences or hedges there has always been a margin that could not be plowed or worked. This marginal strip in the case of a large farm, made quite a fraction of additional land brought under cultivation. But the advantages are seen to be outweighed in many respects by the disadvantages. Not to speak of the injury to cattle which was one of the first objections against the new article, the farmers now find, after a few years' banishment of the birds, that flies and worms do persistent damage and are practically insuppressible. The effect upon the trade here will make itself manifest at an early day.—Brooklyn Citizen.

History of the Enterprise.

The history of the Enterprise recently appearing in the APPEAL has been supplanted by a much more elaborate history by Dan De Quille. The APPEAL does not claim to be much of a date and history sharp. Dan knows more of the history of Nevada than any man living. Dan dates from way back, and has a memory for times in the year that knocks us all cold. He never starts in talking about the past in an ordinary way, but something like this: "When Virginia City was where Genoa now stands," or, "When Mt. Davidson was a frog hollow in Humboldt county." Then you know that an old inhabitant is on deck.

The APPEAL is willing to wager that Dan can give the date of every important event that ever happened in this State without the slightest reference to notes. The only thing he cannot remember is when people stopped calling him George Wright and nick-named him Dan De Quille.

A Levanting Caterer.

About a week ago Gibson, the colored man who recently rented Sweeney's restaurant, said he was going to Bower's Mansion on a trip, and has not since been heard from. It has gradually dawned upon his creditors that he has left the city permanently. He owed considerable money about the town. He owed Hark about $180 for meat. Bel $150 for groceries, Sweeney quite a sum and a good many others. His debts in all will amount to about $1,500. As soon as it was settled fact that he was not coming back the restaurant was closed. The restaurant seems to have had bad luck with its managers. Some years ago a man named Hunt who rented it skipped out under similar circumstances. There will be an effort made to bring Gibson back.

An Iron Bonanza.

TYLER, Tex., June 6.—A scientific expert from Philadelphia, who with several gentlemen of this place has for some weeks been testing the mineral resources adjacent and tributary to Tyler, reports that these sections contain enough iron ore of a quality superior to that of Pennsylvania and Alabama, to supply all the foundries in the world for 100 years.

His expression is thought by the incredulous to be exaggerated, but it has had the effect of infusing additional vigor in all branches of trade in anticipation of the developments contemplated and now in course of progress.

What's in a Name?

The last minstrel show that visited Carson was called "Mamma's Black Baby Bby Combination." It was a wretchedly poor show and very slimly attended. In our humble opinion the sickly name was one thing that killed the show, and what little life was left was quashed out by the performers themselves.
